

Pre-Apprenticeship Training: What Works For Women?

Women Building California and the Nation

Pre-Conference Institute

Friday April 25th, 2014

10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Sheraton Grand Hotel, Sacramento, CA

As the construction economy finally rebounds, communities and building trades unions are increasingly exploring how to establish strong and vital apprenticeship preparation programs as a first step onto the construction career ladder. Join us to discuss the opportunities, challenges and best practices for creating pre-apprenticeship programs that benefit the men—and the women—in your community.

JOIN COLLEAGUES AND SUBJECT MATTER EXPERTS in an engaged set of roundtable and panel discussions on best practices for:

- recruiting women to pre-apprenticeship training programs
- preparing women to be successful and competitive candidates for skilled trade apprenticeship
- supporting women's retention and advancement in the construction industry

WHO CAN BENEFIT FROM ATTENDING:

Apprenticeship Training Directors and Coordinators, Pre-Apprenticeship Program Managers and Frontline Staff (Instructors, Outreach Coordinators, Case Managers and Job Developers), National Workforce Development Agencies, Tradeswomen Volunteers and Mentors

REGISTRATION FEE

$65/person ($75 after 4/18)

Register at www.sbctc.org

Institute attendees are encouraged to attend the Women Building California and the Nation conference (separate registration fee required.)

Register at www.sbctc.org, or use the form in the Women Building California and the Nation conference brochure.

The Institute is being organized by Chicago Women in Trades, Oregon Tradeswomen Inc., Tradeswomen, Inc., and Wider Opportunities for Women.

For more information contact Connie Ashbrook, OTI: connie@tradeswomen.net

