Attachment D: Text of Proposed Fair Employment and Housing Act Housing Regulations (Draft)

B. Public Comment

The Council heard public comment on the text of the proposed Fair Employment and Housing Act Housing Regulations from:

Kelly Richardson, Richardson Harman Ober PC, Partner

- The goal should be to attempt to define existing law – not create new law. Recommends working on the draft one piece at a time. Likes the concept of the interactive process and believes there should be some requirement that a tenant participate in the process. Concerned about interjecting the idea of sexual harassment in housing as it is different from the employment setting. Concerned over the handling of medical marijuana smoke intrusion to adjacent neighbors. Would like to tie a health care professional's area of expertise to the reason for a comfort animal. Would love to see temporary disability addressed in the regulations.

Leah Simon-Weisberg, Tenants Together, Legal Director

- Concerned with occupancy standards. Believes the Council lacks the necessary housing expertise and should turn to housing groups like her own for their expertise. Sexual harassment in housing desperately needs to be addressed. The Council should start anew with the housing regulations once the new Director begins.

Brian Geiser, Oakland Tenants Union, Volunteer

- Concerned with occupancy standards as it will give landlords the ability to evict people who struggle to meet the two plus one requirement given rent affordability concerns.

Nadia Aziz, Law Foundation of Silicon Valley, Fair Housing Law Project, Senior Attorney

- Affirmed the Foundation's intent to provide formal comments during the rulemaking process and offered to participate in any working groups formed during the process.

Paul Dumont, The Sober Living Network, Housing Advocate

- Concerned with occupancy standards.

Barbara Dickey, Disability Rights California, Associate Managing Attorney

- Sought clarification regarding the timing of formal comment periods for the housing regulations and encouraged the Council to utilize a working group.

XII. Future Meeting

Chair Mandelbaum announced that there is a tentative telephonic meeting scheduled for February, 17, 18, 19, or 20, 2015, and another in person meeting planned for March.

XIII. Further Public Comment

None.
