

Designing SCDD Future

The SCDD Council Leadership and Executive Management Team are currently developing a roadmap which will guide and rebuild our organization to become the leader of innovation and policy change that allow people with developmental disabilities and their families to have equality and independence as they determine their own destination. We are seeking input from the MTARS committee to assist with this process by requesting input on the following for questions:

1. What are some of the Council recent accomplishments?
2. How can the Council establish itself as a model leader in California and throughout the Nation?
3. How does the Council want to improve and impact the lives of people with disabilities and their family in the next 10 years?
4. What uniqueness can the Council bring to improving the California Developmental Disabilities System?
